Animal Training and Behavior

I understand that a properly trained animal does not act aggressively by biting, barking, jumping, lunging, or injuring people or other animals. It also does not urinate or defecate on the aircraft.

The above-named animal has been trained to behave in a public setting

I understand that if said animal shows that it has not been properly trained to behave in public, then the airline may treat said animal as a Pet in the Cabin and require approved pet carriers to be used during all phases of flight.

To the best of my knowledge, the above-named animal has not behaved aggressively or caused serious injury to another animal/person.

I understand that if the above-named animal causes damage, including urinating or defecating, the airline may charge for the cost to repair it.

I hereby certify that the above statements are true and correct. I understand that a false statement may disqualify my animal for ESA privileges on future flights.
